CASE STUDY: TAYLOR ROFFEY GRADUATED FROM UNIVERSITY OF KENT IN 2022. TAYLOR HAS NOW SECURED A GRADUATE LEVEL JOB AS SPORTS AND FITNESS ASSISTANT AT UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE AS PART OF THE UNIVERSITY

Original Status: Taylor sought help from Gradcore to secure his dream graduate role in Sports Science or Sports Coaching. At the start of the support, Taylor was working in non-graduate employment with Halfords.

Support Provided: Taylor's coach provided a detailed CV and LinkedIn review. They also worked on tailoring job applications to help Taylor stand out. His Coach provided advice and guidance on how to source roles in his chosen field and supported Taylor to perfect his interview technique to prepare for live opportunities.

What Taylor Found Most Valuable: "The support throughout the application process was amazing. The most valuable part was the advice on how to find jobs in my field."

How the Support Helped Taylor with Confidence: "I have gained confidence in the way I conduct myself during interviews and my ability to find new roles."

What Taylor Said About the Support: "I rate the standard of the support as 5 stars out of 5!"
